

1 Lecture - MGT401

Important Subjective

1. What are the advantages of a sole proprietorship? Answer: Advantages of a sole proprietorship include ease of formation, direct control by the owner, and simplified taxation.
2. What are the disadvantages of a partnership? Answer: Disadvantages of a partnership include unlimited personal liability and potential for disputes between partners.
3. What are the advantages of an LLC? Answer: Advantages of an LLC include limited personal liability, pass-through taxation, and flexibility in management structure.
4. What is double taxation, and how does it affect corporations? Answer: Double taxation refers to the taxation of corporate profits at both the corporate level and the individual level. It affects corporations by reducing profits available for distribution to shareholders.
5. What is a cooperative, and how does it differ from other types of business entities? Answer: A cooperative is a type of business entity that is owned and operated by its members, who share in the profits and decision-making. It differs from other types of business entities in that it prioritizes the well-being of its members over profit.
6. What is a limited liability partnership (LLP)? Answer: A limited liability partnership is a type of partnership where partners have limited personal liability for the actions of other partners.
7. What are the advantages of a corporation? Answer: Advantages of a corporation include limited personal liability, the ability to raise capital through stock offerings, and a more complex management structure.
8. What are the disadvantages of a sole proprietorship? Answer: Disadvantages of a sole proprietorship include unlimited personal liability and difficulty in raising capital.
9. What is the difference between a general partnership and a limited partnership? Answer: In a general partnership, all partners have unlimited personal liability and share in decision-making and profits. In a limited partnership, there are both general partners with unlimited personal liability and limited partners with limited personal liability who do not participate in decision-making.
10. What are the advantages of a cooperative? Answer: Advantages of a cooperative include shared decision-making and profits among members and a focus on the well-being of members rather than profit.