

1 Lecture - CS502

Important Mcqs

1. What is the purpose of an introduction?

- a) To summarize the entire work
- b) To establish the author's credibility
- c) To provide supporting evidence
- d) To present the conclusion

Answer: b) To establish the author's credibility

What should an introduction include?

- a) The author's personal opinions
- b) A thesis statement
- c) Background information unrelated to the topic
- d) A conclusion

Answer: b) A thesis statement

Why is the introduction considered a critical component of any communication?

- a) It sets the tone for the entire piece
- b) It summarizes the main points of the work
- c) It provides supporting evidence
- d) It presents a conclusion

Answer: a) It sets the tone for the entire piece

What does a well-crafted introduction do?

- a) Confuses the reader
- b) Bore the reader
- c) Captures the audience's attention
- d) Presents irrelevant information

Answer: c) Captures the audience's attention

Which of the following is NOT included in an introduction?

- a) A thesis statement
- b) A summary of the entire work
- c) Background information related to the topic
- d) The author's personal opinions

Answer: b) A summary of the entire work

Which part of a piece of writing or speech is the introduction?

- a) The conclusion
- b) The middle
- c) The beginning
- d) It can be anywhere in the piece

Answer: c) The beginning

What is the main goal of an introduction?

- a) To provide evidence to support the author's argument

- b) To persuade the reader to agree with the author's opinion
- c) To establish the author's credibility and interest the reader
- d) To present a conclusion

Answer: c) To establish the author's credibility and interest the reader

How can an introduction be effective?

- a) By providing irrelevant information
- b) By including a thesis statement and relevant background information
- c) By presenting a conclusion
- d) By confusing the reader

Answer: b) By including a thesis statement and relevant background information

Which of the following is NOT a purpose of an introduction?

- a) To establish the author's credibility
- b) To provide supporting evidence
- c) To motivate the reader to continue reading or listening
- d) To present a thesis statement

Answer: b) To provide supporting evidence

What does the introduction serve as?

- a) A conclusion
- b) A guide to the reader or listener
- c) An explanation of the author's personal opinions
- d) A summary of the entire work

Answer: b) A guide to the reader or listener